FROM OVER THE OCEAN.

King Cetewayo Is Defeated With Heavy Loss.

Six More Irish Convictions--The Pope's Circular Raises an Excitement--Parnell's Opinion of It.

DURBAN, May 17.—News has been received that King Cetewayo, having advanced to attack Ohlam and Usibepu, the latter chiefs combined their forces and utterly routed Cetewayo. The first account of the engagement put the loss at 6,000 men, but this is probably exaggerated.

Ireland.
LONDON, May 17.—Mr. Parnell is reported to have expressed himself as satisfied that the Government party were endeavoring to produce a spirit of disorganization in the New National League by making false use of the Pope's letter forbidding active political agitation against the Government by the Irish clergy. Mr. Parnell says that the Pope's letter is more advisory than mandatory, the Catholic Church not being a State Church. If such a letter should be addressed by the Church of England to the clergy of the Established Church, it would unquestionably be mandatory, but there being no such a political relation between the Church of Rome and the Irish people, the utterance of the Pope would be properly appreciated and obeyed by the Irish Catholic clergy, without in any sense interfering with their real political freedom of action.

DUBLIN, May 17.—James Mullett, Edward O'Brien, Edward McCaffrey, Daniel Delaney, William Moroney and Thomas Doyle, all of whom pleaded guilty to a charge of conspiracy to murder, were arraigned for sentence this morning. The first four mentioned were each sentenced to ten years penal servitude and Doyle to five years penal servitude. The Crown decided a removal charge against McCaffrey of having participated in the murder of Burke.

Judge O'Brien, in passing sentence upon James Mullett, said: "There is more known concerning you than was made public. I believe you were present during the attack on Juror Field."

Mullett replied, "I was not."

The Judge then adverted to the principal share the prisoner had taken in organizing the conspiracy to murder Matthias Brady, charged with threatening the foreman of the jury which convicted his brother.

Joe Brady pleaded guilty to the charge, but the Crown and the persons threatened assented to his discharge.

DUBLIN, May 17.—The press of Ireland, to-day, is unanimous in opposition to the sentiments expressed in the circular from the Vatican. The Nation concludes a strong leader on the subject as follows: "If Rome enters into an unholy alliance with England against us, we shall stand for the rights and liberties of Ireland against Rome and England combined."

The trial of Peter Doyle on a charge of conspiracy to murder was postponed on account of sickness. He was in court this morning, but was so weak he had to be supported in the dock by a warden.

Russia.
ST. PETERSBURG, May 17.—Reports have been received of an extensive and disastrous conflagration at Samara, the capital of the province of that name, which lies at the junction of the Samara and Volga rivers, in Southeastern Russia.

France.
PARIS, May 17.—M. Ferry, in reply to a deputation of American and French gentlemen, interested in American affairs, headed by Minister Morton, who presented a request that France should take an interest in the Boston exhibition, said that he would do all in his power. He regretted, however, that so many exhibitions in which France was interested would be held at about the time fixed for that at Boston, so that he would probably be unable to make so successful a display as he would like to do.

M. E. Duclercq, Senator, President of the Council and Minister of Foreign Affairs, is reported as being seriously ill.

A dispatch telegraphed from London says that the English Ministry shares the already reported view of Lord Dufferin on affairs in Egypt. The Government is informed that Egypt has no longer any interest in regaining the provinces of Dufferin and Kordafan, now held by El Mehdí.

If the Khedive is disposed to acquiesce in the suggestion, England will endeavor to negotiate a settlement of differences and define the positions of Egypt and Mahdud to each other in the Sudan.

Belgium.
BRUSSELS, May 17.—While King Leopold II. was riding with his suite in the suburbs this afternoon, his horse was accidentally struck by a bicyclist passing in the opposite direction. His Majesty was thrown to the ground, but, fortunately, did not receive any serious injury.

Italy.
ROME, May 17.—M. De Pretis, President of the Council of Ministers, to-day announced that unless the Chamber passed an explicit vote of confidence in the Government, the existing Ministry would at once resign.

Turkey.
LONDON, May 17.—It is reported that the Sultan has agreed to call a Parliament in which all the religious elements of the Empire shall be represented as soon as an outline basis of propositions to be submitted can be agreed upon.

Egypt.
ALEXANDRIA, May 17.—There has been a terrible outbreak of small-pox on board of an American ship in the roads at Arabi Reval. There were twenty deaths on the voyage and the Captain has been fined 800 crowns for attempting to enter the harbor.

LISBON, May 17.—During a popular fête and fire-works in an adjacent village a dynamite bomb exploded, killing four persons and wounding twenty.

KNOTT IS NOMINATED.

The Plucky Proctor Plucks the Gubernatorial Pippin.

He Is Selected by the Democrats After a Hard Fight on the Eleventh Ballot, By Six Votes Over Jones.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., May 17.—The whole of yesterday afternoon was consumed in organizing and nominating speeches. Mr. Knott, who was recently in Congress, was placed in nomination by Hon. James A. McKenzie, whose tariff speech caused so much comment. There were 3,000 persons present. The first ballot resulted: Chas. D. Jacob, 904; Mike H. Owens, 1104; Buckner, 2433; Knott, 1894; Jones, 2054; Up to midnight six ballots had been taken, varying little from the above. At the end of the fourth ballot Mr. Jacob was withdrawn and his strength was thrown to Buckner and Owensley. The sixth ballot resulted as follows:

Knott 231, Jones 227, Buckner 171, Owensley 104. The Convention then adjourned until to-day.

The Convention this morning at 10 o'clock renewed the balloting for Governor, amid great noise and excitement. The game evidently was to freeze out Buckner or Owensley on the seventh ballot, after which the lowest candidate was to be dropped.

No sooner had the gavel dropped than Owensley's name was withdrawn, and pandemonium held sway for a minute. Then the seventh ballot commenced; a crisis was reached which would soon close the contest. Jones and Knott gained slowly from Owensley's men; likewise Buckner. The interest culminated when Owensley's counties swung to Buckner, and the vote stood in this order: Jones, Knott, Buckner. Before the vote was announced Jessamine county changed two votes from Buckner to Knott, amid great confusion. Pulaski changed two to Jones. Buckner's backers turned to Knott.

The changing of votes from Buckner to Knott and Jones went on with tremendous enthusiasm. First Knott, then Jones, and the result wavered. Then the ballot was retaken by counties. Buckner's name was withdrawn. While the ballot proceeded the fight was fierce between Knott and Jones—Greek meet Greek, and the suspense was at fever heat.

At 12:12 Proctor Knott was nominated on the eleventh ballot, by six majority over Jones.

KNIGHTS OF PYTHIAS.
Preparing for the Grand Display at the Grand Lodge Session.

CINCINNATI, May 17.—Mr. Henry Heinmiller, Grand Commander of the Knights of Pythias, has issued the following official circular:

A Proclamation by the Mahdi.
LONDON, May 17.—The following is a translation of a proclamation recently issued by the Mahdi: "In the name of the compassionate God, praise be rendered to Him, the all-powerful and generous, and prayers to our Lord Mahomed and to all His descendants. From the servant of the Lord, Mahomed el Mahdi, son of Sayed Abdallah, to all his faithful proselytes. We have named as prince our beloved Sheikh Mansour, son of Abd el Makim. Execute his orders and commands, and follow him in combat. Do all that he orders you, and avoid all that he forbids. Whoever submits to him submits to us, who disobeys him disobeys us, and God Himself and His prophet. Make all penitence before God, and abandon all bad and forbidden habits, such as shameful works of the flesh, use of wine, tobacco, lying, forced (sic) witness, disobedience to parents, brigandage, non-restoration of goods belonging to others, beating of hands, dancing, evil signs of the eyes, weeping and lamentation of the dead, black-biting, calumny, and the company of strange women. Cover your women in a decent manner that they do not speak to unknown persons. All those who allow themselves to ignore these principles disobey God and His prophet," and will be punished according to the law. Make your prayers at the appointed hours, give the tithe of your goods, paying it to the Prince Sheikh Mansour, so that he may remit it to the treasury of Islamism. Adore God; do not hate one another, but aid each other to do good. We have named Sheikh Adris, son of the Light, to govern you. Do not disobey him. Who disobeys him disobeys us."

SLAVERY SURVIVORS.

What a Government Agent Discovered Among the Navajo Indians.

WASHINGTON, May 17.—D. M. Riordan, of the Navajo Indian Agency, writes to the Commissioner of Indian Affairs under date of Fort Defiance, Arizona, May 5, that he was recently informed that a boy had been killed by a member of "Francisco Captain's" band. An investigation followed, and it was ascertained that the boy was a slave of the murderer. The agent says:

The owners of slaves have already held that they had absolute power over them, and thought as little of killing one of them as they would a dog. They beat and starved them as the mood possessed, and, in short, acted toward them as slave drivers generally do. Consequently they seemed unable to comprehend why I took so much interest in a dead slave, or why I should bother my head about such a trifle. I learned from Francisco Captain that the entire family of the murdered boy and five other persons, were held as slaves; that the original slaves were two Moqui girls who were bought for corn four generations ago; that all their descendants were considered slaves, and so treated, all of which he considered a perfectly natural thing to do.

Some time ago the father of the murdered boy asserted his right to be free. The killing of the boy was thought to be the right thing to remind him of his dependent condition. Knowing the tedious, expensive and uncertain process of procuring a conviction under our laws, especially in the Territorial courts, the difficulty in procuring witnesses, etc., I determined to at least secure the liberation of all the remaining slaves, and demanded that all those now amongst the Indians, who are held in bondage, should be set free. They said it would completely upset them. One villain wanted to know who will take care of me if my slaves are taken away.

Agent Riordan, according to the report, insisted that all of the slaves should be freed, and the Indians finally acceded to his demand. He estimates that there are about 800 persons held in slavery by this tribe, some of whom are war captives, while others are the results of trades or purchases. The descendants of these, he says, are always considered slaves. The Indian Bureau has approved the stand taken by Riordan, and will render him every assistance possible in carrying out his plans.

EMIGRATION.

Europe Sending Increased Numbers to America.

WASHINGTON, May 17.—Those who are watching the tide of emigration as it flows to the shores of this one great country, predict that it will rise higher this year than ever before. The number of arrivals in May will doubtless run over 100,000. In April they were 82,000, and of that number 78,500 were persons who had turned their backs upon their homes and country to seek new and better ones on this side the globe. The United Kingdom furnished last month a larger number of these than any other, the total from England, Ireland, and Wales, being 26,000, and from Canada, 7,691, against 25,000 from Germany. This is quite a change as compared with the relative arrivals during the past two or three years. Since 1880, until now, Germany has furnished a larger number of immigrants than any other country.

Now the United Kingdom comes again to the front, taking first rank in this regard as contributor to the population of the United States. In the months of April, May and June of last year England, Ireland, Scotland, and Wales sent less than 80,000 immigrants, while Germany sent more than 100,000. In the preceding three months the number of arrivals from Germany was seventy-five per cent. in excess of that from the British Isles. In the calendar year of 1881 the number from Germany was over fifty per cent. greater than the number from the British Isles. Now the situation is reversed, the number from the United Kingdom exceeding that from Germany. These figures are at the service of those who desire to philosophize upon the present state of affairs abroad.

SMOKE CONSUMPTION.

A Useful Unpatented Device.

WASHINGTON, May 17.—Necessity is said to have been a maternal relation to invention, but an exception to this rule is noted in the fact that a gentleman residing in Washington, where the sight of black smoke is a novelty, has invented a system of smoke consuming which, for its simplicity and effectiveness, seems likely to meet with general favor. As it is not patented I give a description of it for the benefit of your city, which needs it. The plan is simply to convey the exhaust steam from the engine in all large establishments where the engine is used, to the chimney, forcing it in the form of spray diagonally upward and across the chimney. This is accomplished by a perforated pipe running round the inside of the chimney, with the perforators so set as to throw the spray upward to a common center. The sheet of spray, with which the smoke constantly comes in contact, it is said, causes the carbon and other matter arising from imperfect combustion to fall back into the furnace, where it is consumed, only a colorless gas finally escaping from the mouth of the chimney. The system, it is claimed, also aids in regulating the draught of the furnace, and proves a fuel saver as well as a smoke consumer. As the establishments which are provided with steam engines are practically the smoke producers it would appear that this simple plan may prove really valuable, both as a smoke consumer and a fuel saver.

Thompson "Not Guilty."

The Jury Acquits Him on the Plea of Emotional Insanity.

Great Excitement as Well as Disaffection with the Verdict.

HARRISBURG, Ky., May 17.—Wednesday made an end of the trial of Congressman Phil Thompson, jr. Commonwealth's Attorney Shuck closed the argument for the prosecution, and the case, in a speech of an hour's length, in which he argued to prove that Jessie Buckner was not only the cause of the killing, but she it was who concocted the entire scheme, in pursuance of her avowed purpose of having revenge upon them, and to get Walter Davis and his wife separated. The investigation and the argument on both sides have been very exhaustive, and while almost every point was gone over repeatedly, nothing of advantage escaped the vigilant eyes of the attorneys.

At 2:40 the case was given to the jury, who, taking the indictment and instructions, retired to their room to agree upon a verdict. The court-room remained crowded, and there was much speculation in regard to the verdict, though the scale was heavily on the side of acquittal.

This has been a famous trial. The awful crime alleged against the deceased, his swift punishment, the high standing of all the parties concerned, and the great array of legal talent employed on both sides, will all tend to make it one of the most celebrated cases on record. It is an old proverb that a woman in a case makes it a bad one, but in this there are two women, whisky and also Apollinaris water, all conducing to render it a terrible affair. Popular opinion here has swayed as the trial has progressed. Sober thinking men have changed as the evidence was brought out. So great has been the interest manifested that farmers, mechanics and business men of all classes have left their work to attend the trial, and gray heads that seldom leave their fire-sides were observable interspersed through the immense throng that waited the return of the jury.

One hour passed since the jury retired, the audience lingered, and every sound of footsteps coming from the direction of their room caused breathless silence in the room. The accused still looked confident and conversed with his counsel and the friends that surrounded him. His brothers and father looked anxiously toward the door at every sound.

At last, when eighty minutes had elapsed, the jury came. "Here they come!" is whispered, and Phil Thompson's friends crowd around him. Colonel Jacobs has him pressed closely in his great, strong right arm, while on the other side his father, ashen pale with emotion and excitement. The jury answer to their names, and when the Judge asks, "Have the jury agreed upon a verdict?" Smith Mover Street responds "We have."

"What is your verdict?"
"We of the jury find Philip B. Thompson, jr., not guilty as charged in the indictment."

Then there went up such a shout as has not been heard in that old court-house since the days before the war. Men rushed forward to congratulate Thompson, and a hundred stood waiting to shake his hand. During the confusion the voice of old Phil rang out, "Thank God! Kentucky wives can now be protected!" When order was restored, the Judge discharged the prisoner and adjourned court till Monday next, and the crowd dispersed, many with tears in their eyes.

TRACK OF THE CYCLONE.

Still Come in the Reports of Its Fearful Devastation.

CONNEERSVILLE, Ind., May 17.—A correspondent visited the path of the terrific cyclone which swept through the northern part of this county Monday evening about 6 o'clock. A terrible hail-storm prevailed for about fifteen minutes, after which the first signs of a cyclone were visible. As the storm subsided persons who were in position to view saw the formation of a cyclone in the West. At first it appeared like small spirals of smoke, two in number, which gradually approached and blended. A funnel-shaped cloud immediately formed and rose into the heavens until joined with other clouds. The body grew larger and larger, and appeared to be in great commotion. It passed rapidly East, and its path was about eight rods wide.

Houses were blown down, barns unroofed, trees and fences were blown down, and in fact everything in its course was demolished. It passed through the small town of Waterloo, about four miles north of here, completely demolishing the little village. The large iron bridge at this place, lately erected over Whitewater River by the country at an expense of $40,000, was picked up from its foundation and hurled to the bed of the river below. Also a large wooden bridge over a small stream was picked up and carried away. Luckily in our entire drive over its course not a man, woman or child was killed or injured. Stock also escaped.

NASHVILLE, May 16.—Particulars are just received of the cyclone which wiped out the mining town of Empira, Ky., Monday evening. A large general store, kept by the coal company, was swept away entirely, not a plank or a stone being left. The goods were scattered in the woods in every direction. Hardly a house in the place remains. Trees of the largest size were uprooted and carried some distance. Seven trees were lodged across the railroad track. The entire town was swept away in a twinkling, leaving only one small house standing. The destruction was complete; trees and fences were lifted from their places and carried several hundred yards.

As soon as the storm abated the panic-stricken people began to crawl out from the wreck and ruins of their houses, and a scene of fearful desolation met their startled gaze. All around them were the dismantled houses and household goods in terrible confusion; beneath heavy tim-

ARMY OF THE POTOMAC.

Grand Reunion and Opening Ceremonies.

WASHINGTON, May 17.—Wednesday witnessed the opening ceremonies of the reunion of the Army of the Potomac.

Shortly before 12 o'clock the President was notified of the approach of the procession, and, with the members of his Cabinet and other invited guests, proceeded across the lawn to the stand, which was approached by a flight of steps from within the White House grounds. Upon the stand were the President, Secretaries Lincoln, Teller, Attorney General Brewster, Postmaster General Gresham, Justice Field, Senators Miller (of California) and Butler (of South Carolina), ex-Senator Windom, Representatives McKinley and S. S. Cox, the English, French, Spanish, Brazilian and Chinese Ministers and ladies of their families; W. W. Corcoran, General Sherman and staff, General Hazen, General B. S. Calif, General Livermore, General Ingalls, General Schofield, Admiral Nichols, Admiral Rowan; the Commissioners of the District, ex-Postmaster General Horatio King, J. J. Cresswell, Marshal McMichael, and others. The head of the procession reached the stand at 12:10 o'clock, and the last of the carriages which brought up the rear passed at 12:50 p. m.

Of the society of the Army of the Potomac there were about 700 various organizations comprising the escort; about 2,500 men passed in review. Along the line of march was a liberal display of bunting and much enthusiasm. It was the first representative gathering of the Army of the Potomac in Washington since the war, and as the soldiers of twenty years ago marched past the stand, many of them gray-haired and bearded, and bowed with the weight of years, it recalled the review of 1865, when the Army of the Potomac marched up the avenue and passed in review before the President, 100,000 strong. In the procession were many well known and familiar faces, and there was a constant interchange of recognition between the passing veterans and those upon the stand.

At 1 o'clock the escort was dismissed at the Riggs House, the point from which the procession started, and the Society of the Army of the Potomac marched to the White House and paid their respects to the President, who received them in the East Room, and greeted each member as he was presented to him.

Favorable Reports of the Cattle Business.

CHICAGO, May 17.—The Drovers' Journal has received reports in detail from the ranching regions of Colorado, Kansas, Texas, Nebraska, Idaho, Wyoming, the Indian Territory, Montana, and Nevada, showing the range cattle business to be in a very thrifty condition. The percentage of loss in all the States and Territories ranges from 1 to 20 per cent., or a general average of 3 1/2 per cent. Stock for the range is reported entirely free from disease, save in a few cases of blackleg, which is incident to the over-fat

A cubic inch of gold is worth $210; a cubic foot, $373,380; a cubic yard, $6,797,762. This is valuing at $18 an ounce. At the commencement of the Christian era there was in the world $327,000,000 in gold. This had diminished to $57,000,000 at the time America was discovered, when it began to increase. Now the amount of gold in use is estimated to be $3,000,000,000.

The sum of $16,800, lately paid to the trustees of Washington and Lee University by the State of Virginia, was the interest due on what are known as the Peabody bonds. In 1834, when the steamer Arctic was lost at sea she carried down with her $154,000 worth of Virginia bonds, that belonged to Mr. Peabody, which the State refused to renew. The claim was given to the Virginia college and the Legislature has since provided for the payment of the interest, which dates back to the time when the bonds were lost.

A Tight Place.

Tombstone (Ark.) Epitaph.

John Lyons, a well-known citizen of this county, on Friday last, while at work in the shaft of his mine near Tres Alamos, had just put in a blast and lighted the fuse, when, on reaching the top of the shaft, he beheld four mounted Apaches rapidly approaching. As they saw him approach they increased their pace, and their fiendish yells relieved Mr. Lyons of all doubt as to their intention toward himself. For an instant he was paralyzed with terror. Being entirely unarmed, resistance was not to be thought of, while escape by flight was equally impossible. His first impulse was to hurl himself into the shaft and be blown to atoms by the explosion of the blast rather than perish miserably at the hands of the remorseless fiends who had him at their mercy. This reflection occurred only a moment's time, for the Apaches were almost upon him. Suddenly, with the instinct of despair, Mr. Lyons threw himself behind a pile of rock close at hand, and at the same instant the blast at the bottom of the shaft exploded with terrible effect, throwing a shower of rock and debris high in the air, which was followed by a dense cloud of smoke rolling up from the shaft. The Indians, who were now sure of their victim, halted a moment at the unexpected, and to them mysterious eruption; then, with a yell, not of triumph, but of rage, mingled with terror, wheeled their horses and galloped off in the direction whence they came. Mr. Lyons could at first scarcely realize that he had escaped almost miraculously from a horrible death, but as soon as he had recovered from his amazement, he departed for Tres Alamos, meeting on the road a party of neighbors going out to search for his remains, they having seen the Indians heading in the direction of the mine, and not doubting that Mr. Lyons had fallen a victim of savage ferocity.

Teaching a Melican Man Business.

N. Y. Sun.

An up-town professor lost the Oriental bit of scrib given by a Chinese laundryman, and was without it when he went for his shirts. The Chinaman said, "Gimme tiekee."

"Lost it," said the Professor. The Chinaman went to the rear of his den, and came back shrugging his shoulders.

He said, smiling, "Solly," "Why are you sorry?" said the Professor.

"Me lost shirts," said the Chinaman. The Professor got a lawyer and returned to bulldoze the Chinaman.

"Give this man his shirts," yelled the lawyer, fiercely.

"Solly," said the Chinaman, as he rolled up a damp garment. "He lost tiekee, I lost shirts."

Parleying did no good. The Professor retired without his shirts. On the next return of his wash from the same laundry the Chinese messenger gave him, in change, a trade dollar. It proved to be as light as a feather. Going to the laundry the next day, after discovering that the coin was worthless, he told the Chinaman that his man had given him that counterfeit. The Chinaman tossed it on the counter, weighed it, and smiled.

"Badec," he said. "Your Chinaman gave it to me," said the Professor.

"Badec Chinaman. I sent him 'way yesterday," and the proprietor smiled again. The Professor concluded to try another Mongolian.

The Monster Prison of Europe.

London Daily News.

The largest prison in Europe is the house of Detention, which has just been completed at Berlin. This enormous edifice comprises six separate buildings, to which have been transferred all the prisoners awaiting trial who have hitherto been confined in the various prisons of Berlin. The prison for men consists of a ground floor and four other stories, with 732 separate cells, dormitories for 195 prisoners, besides forty rooms for turnkeys and sleeping accommodation for 118 attendants. Each of the 732 cells has a window ten feet high. There are six cells in the basement for prisoners who are refractory to discipline, and in the basement are also to be found the kitchens, the bath rooms, and the heating apparatus of the prison. The internal part of the prison is constructed of iron, and is so built that all the corridors look out upon a central hall, which commands a view of every cell. The prison for the men, which is separated from the rest of the building by a wall sixteen feet high, also contains a chapel and four large exercise grounds. The prison for women contains only 110 cells and fifteen large dormitories, the latter of which are divided into sections, each containing a bed which can be locked up every night after its occupant has retired to rest.

Fashion Notes.

Louisville Post.

The new fashions for the neck are very wide and full, and are nearly a yard long.

Straight coats of black Sillemie, lined with old green plush, are worn over black velvet dresses and are trimmed with feathers.

One of the loveliest dresses for midsummer or spring festival wear is of white veiling closely dotted with silk brocade dots.

Large palm-leaf patterns appear in involved designs, covering the entire surface of cashmere broches of the finest quality.

Embroidered costumes of black cashmere will be still more dressy with trimmings of the new soutache laces.

The long nurse apron front, with papiers above it around the hips, is a favorite style for spring costumes.

Among the designs in the new satens are red and green pepper (capsicum) pods, with foliage and stems.

The new wraps, pelerines, scarfs, dolmans and visites are all made bouffant on the top of the shoulders.

Large puff crowns and plaited brims are features in some of the most becoming spring bonnets.

Brown and dark—almost invisible—green are favorite colors for spring wraps when of woolen cloths.

An eccentric fancy is out the ends of all ribbon bows, strings and sashes into long forks or notches.

Merinos are again in favor, and, combined with velvet, bid fair to rival cloth for dressy street costumes.

Cats are the fashionable animals at present, and cat-head and cat-paw ornaments are in high favor.

A Curious Snuff-Luck.

Shortly after the breaking out of the French Revolution, its advocates denounced our Premier as "an enemy to the human race;" that man, "so easy to live with," who sang the song about himself, called "Billy Pitt, the Tory." His Secretary one day told him that a foreigner, who spoke English tolerably well, had twice or thrice asked to see him; but, not looking like a proper applicant, had been sent away, the great man's time being too precious for him to admit every stranger who, on frivolous pretenses, might seek to gratify an idle curiosity. This person, however, had said he should return in an hour; the Secretary, therefore, thought it his duty to inform Mr. Pitt of such intention, and ask his further orders in the affair.

"Have the goodness," said the Minister, "to open the top left hand drawer in that cabinet, and bring me its contents."

These were a pair of pistols, and a morocco case; opening the latter he produced a snuff-box, in which was set a portrait.

"Is that like our visitor?" asked Pitt.

"It is the man, sir," answered the Secretary.

"Ha, I have expected him for some days! He is sent over to assassinate me; so, when he calls again, let him be shown up."

"Sir!" exclaimed the attached retainer, "will you expose to danger your life on which so much depends?"

"There will be no danger. I thank you; but you may be within call, if you please."

Accordingly the Frenchman, on his return, was ushered into the room where William Pitt sat alone—a loaded pistol in one hand, the miniature in the other.

"Monsieur Mehee de la Touche," said Pitt, calmly, "you see I am in every way prepared for you, thanks to an agent employed by this Government. Attempt my life, and your own instantly pays the forfeit. In any case, I shall have you secured, and given over to the law."

The intended assassin stood paralyzed and dumb at this cool reception.

"But," continued Pitt, "there is another alternative—personal safety and high rewards are in your power. Sell your services to Great Britain: make your market of whatever secret information you can procure, that may guard us against the machinations of your country; be, in fact, one of the necessary evils which policy forces us to use in desperate cases; do what no honorable man could do to save yourself from speedy death; your conscience is stained by purposed murder. Comply, perforce, with these conditions, and you shall be as liberally paid as you must, by all parties, be justly despoiled."

The Secretary used to repeat his illustrious master's words, which were, as nearly as possible, to the foregoing effect.

The clever miscreant joyfully accepted these terms, and for many years earned the bribe of a spy in our behalf.

No doubt a snuff-box was the safest medium for the warning portrait, as fancy heads frequently adorned such a thing while, had the miniature been set as a locket, whoever saw it must have been sure that it depicted some real individual.—London Society.

Poultry Items.

We clip the following from the American Poultry Journal:

Care should be taken to pen ducks regularly every night during the time of laying.

Plant your sunflower seed early next month in all the vacant places about the premises.

Hens will usually hatch better if the nests are placed upon the ground and away from disturbance.

Texas is about to hang a woman. She caused her little girl to go on the streets as a beggar, submitted her to cruel privation in order to make her cruel miserably enough to arouse pity, and finally murdered her because she did not bring home a satisfactory amount of money.

THE RACES.

Third Day--A Large Crowd and Fine Sport--Tony Newell takes the Purse in the 2:30 Trot.

Fuller Winner in the Free-for-all Pace--Time 2:13 3/4--Two Seconds Slower Than Little Brown Jug, the Fastest Pacer in the World.

The track, though a trifle dusty, was in excellent condition. The programme opened with the 2:30 class--mile heats--three best in five, for a purse of $800, $400 to the first horse, $200 to the second, $120 to the third and $80 to the fourth. There were seven entries, all started. Tony Newell was the favorite, selling at the rate of $25 to $12 for the field. Nannie Talbot won the pole for the start, with Rigolette, Willis Woods, Brown Wilkes, Tony Newell, Sanford Keith and Zulu in the order named. First heat after much scoring, the horses were finally sent off with Brown Wilkes in the lead, the rest following in a bunch, some breaking badly and falling to the rear. At the first quarter Wilkes still led, with Woods, Rigolette and Newell closing up, Zulu and Keith several lengths behind. Going down the back stretch Rigolette dropped back to fifth place, Zulu sixth and Keith out of the race. Coming into the home stretch, the favorite gradually closed upon Wilkes, and passing him, led under the wire by a length, Rigolette, third, the rest trailing after. Keith distanced. Time, 2:25 1/2. Second heat, after seven or eight attempts, the horses got off in a crowd, at the first quarter, Newell led, with Wilkes and Rigolette at his wheel, the rest several lengths in the rear. In the second quarter, Rigolette broke and ran, lapping the favorite, Wilkes breaking badly and going to the rear. The third quarter was passed in Indian file, Woods slowly closing upon the favorite. Coming down the home stretch Newell, Woods and Rigolette were neck and neck, each struggling for the lead. The favorite, however, was too much for them and led under the wire half a neck ahead of Woods, Rigolette next. The heat, was given to Woods, however, Newell having run a short distance before coming under the wire. Time, 2:26 1/2. Third heat, Wilkes led with Woods and Newell at his wheel, Woods soon took the lead, Newell breaking and Wilkes dropping back, in this order they continued till the last quarter was reached, when Newell went forward and led for a short distance, but again leaving his feet, Woods went forward and won in a jog. Time, 2:25. Fourth heat, Horses got off easily, Zulu and Rigolette in the rear. Newell took the lead from the start and held it to the finish, Woods working hard all the time. Time, 2:26. Fifth heat, this was almost a repetition of the last, the favorite leading from the start, winning by several lengths. Time, 2:26.

The second race was the free-for-all pace, for a purse of $800, divided. There were four entries, with Fuller, Flora Belle and Gem to start. In the pools the Belle was the favorite, but Fuller had a large number of admirers. First heat, Flora Belle led from the start, Gem breaking badly and getting clear out of the race before the second quarter was passed. Fuller worked hard all the way through for the lead, but the favorite got the heat by half a length. Time 2:16. Second heat, Flora Belle had the advantage by a full length in the start, but Fuller lapped at the first quarter. In second quarter the little bay broke and fell three lengths behind. Gaining his feet he gradually closed up and again lapped coming into the last quarter. The favorite did her best and won the heat by only half a neck. Time 2:16 1/2. Third heat, The Belle again had the advantage in the start, and led till half through the second quarter when Fuller went forward leaving the favorite in the dust. They were both now doing their level best, so it seemed from the stand, the little black worked hard, and the two came down the last quarter neck and neck. Fuller again went forward and led under the wire by several lengths, amid the shouts of his admirers. Time 2:13 1/2. Fourth heat, The Belle led again from the start till the third quarter was passed, Fuller left his feet in second quarter and was several lengths in rear, but recovering, he went steadily forward and lapped on coming into the home stretch. Approaching the wire, it was a grand struggle between the two, but Fuller again won by half a length. Time 2:24. Fifth heat, The favorite seemed disheartened but led at the start. Fuller went steadily forward, however, and at first quarter left her in the dust. Having once got the lead the little bay held it to the last and won the heat just half a second ahead of the favorite. Time 2:19. Fuller, the winner of the above race, is a light bay horse and had a record heretofore of 2:14. He was entered in this race by A. W. Campbell, of Texas, and is the property of that gentleman. In this race he wins a record of 2:13 1/2, which is just two seconds slower than Little Brown Jug, the fastest pacer in the world.

Mr. E. L. Dillon, of Cincinnati, who has been visiting his friends in Maysville, returned home on Thursday.

Inhuman Celestials.
SAN FRANCISCO, May 17.--Last Friday, at the railroad camp on the bank of the Sacramento, two sturdy disciples of Confucius were boasting of their ability to swim the river, each asserting that he could do so quicker than his opponent. At last they determined to test their powers, and so confident were they of their ability that each bet three dollars he would win. They then swam across the Sacramento, and one, chilled by the cold water, concluded to rest and warm himself; but the other, anxious to increase his worldly store, immediately started back on the home-stretch, but, sad to relate, the strength of the almond-eyed failed, and he sank to rise no more, when his friends stood upon the bank and hurrahed, taking the fatal termination of the contest as a good joke. The other contestant, after enjoying a rest, recrossed the river and received the stakes.

Base-Ball Games.
The Cincinnati champions were defeated again Wednesday by the local team, and in the presence of 5,000 people. Score, St. Louis 9; Cincinnati 4.
At Cleveland the home team defeated the Boston 5 to 2.
At Chicago the home team beat the New Yorkers 6 to 2.
At Detroit the home team made a score of 11 to Philadelphia's 10.
At Philadelphia the Athletics beat the Baltimore by a score of 10 to 4.

Billiards--Dion Defeated.
NEW YORK, May 17.--The fourth game in the billiard tournament was played yesterday afternoon, and Thomas Wallace, the "Chicago Boy," defeated Joseph Dion, the vanquisher of Vignaux, by a score of 500 to 377.

Germany.
BERLIN, May 17.--It is semi-officially announced that the reply of Prussia to the last note of the Vatican makes no reference to an organic revision of the May laws. It is stated that Bismarck has informed the friends of the Vatican that it will never again receive such favorable offers from Prussia as those now under consideration, and it will surely repent if it rejects them.

By land or at sea, out on the prairie, or in the crowded city, Ayer's Cathartic Pills are the best for purgative purposes, everywhere alike convenient, efficacious and safe. For sluggish bowels, torpid liver, indigestion, bad breath, flatulency, and sick headache, they are a sure remedy.

NOTWITHSTANDING much has been said about the importance of a blood-purifying medicine, it may be possible that the matter has never seriously claimed your attention. Think of it now! If, by the use of a few bottles of Ayer's Sarsaparilla you avoid the evils of scrofula, and transmit a healthy constitution to your offspring, thank us for the suggestion.

SCROFULA

and all scrofulous diseases, Sores, Erysipelas, Eczema, Blotches, Ringworm, Tumors, Carbuncles, Boils, and Eruptions of the Skin, are the direct result of an impure state of the blood.

To cure these diseases the blood must be purified, and restored to a healthy and natural condition. AYER'S SARSAPARILLA has for over forty years been recognized by eminent medical authorities as the most powerful blood purifier in existence. It frees the system from all foul humors, enriches and strengthens the blood, removes all traces of mercurial treatment, and proves itself a complete master of all scrofulous diseases.

A Recent Cure of Scrofulous Sores.

"Some months ago I was troubled with scrofulous sores (ulcers) on my legs. The limbs were badly swollen and inflamed, and the sores discharged large quantities of offensive matter. Every remedy I tried failed, until I used AYER'S SARSAPARILLA, of which I have now taken three bottles, with the result that the sores are healed, and my general health greatly improved. I feel very grateful for the good your medicine has done me." Yours respectfully, Mrs. ANN O'BRIEN.

Prepared by Dr. J. C. Ayer & Co., Lowell, Mass.

At Maysville, Ky., also on the Rev. Z. P. Wilds of 78 East 54th Street, New York City, who will take pleasure in testifying to the wonderful efficacy of Ayer's Sarsaparilla, not only in the cure of this lady, but in his own case and many others within his knowledge.

The well-known writer on the Boston Herald, B. W. BALL, of Rochester, N.H., writes, June 7, 1882: "Having suffered severely for some years with Eczema, and having failed to find relief from other remedies, I have made use, during the past three months, of AYER'S SARSAPARILLA, which has effected a complete cure. I consider it a magnificent remedy for all blood diseases."

Ayer's Sarsaparilla

stimulates and regulates the action of the digestive and assimilative organs, renews and strengthens the vital forces, and speedily cures Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Rheumatic Gout, Catarrh, General Debility, and all diseases arising from an impoverished or corrupted condition of the blood, and a weakened vitality.

It is incomparably the cheapest blood medicine, on account of its concentrated strength, and great power over disease.
